combined short-sightedness and ignorance has rarely been seen in connection with any commercial enterprise. The Report told the shareholders next to nothing; the Statement of Accounts was even worse than the very worst of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank's latest productions in the same line of business. In this state of affairs it was therefore not very surprising that certain shareholders attended the meeting on January 23rd for the special purpose of subjecting the Board of Directors to what is perhaps better expressed by the Scotch word "heckling" than by any other term, and if our opinion is worth anything, we admit it may not be—the malcontents had right on their side. But so happened that Mr. Keswick (the Chairman) had either seen the weakness of the official position, or had received timely warning that awkward questions might be asked, and he accordingly came prepared. All deficiencies in the Report were amply atoned for by the fully detailed statement which Mr. Keswick laid before the meeting, and although we distinctly and emphatically differ from the views he expressed regarding the Accounts, it must be universally conceded that every necessary particle of information was cheerfully placed at the disposal of the shareholders. Doubtless we are justified in concluding that the Directors, recognising the extreme poverty of their printed statements, availed themselves of this opportunity to make all the amends in their power, and they adopted a wise policy.

Considering that the business operations of the Company had only extended over a period of about eight months, and in view of the fact that, as the Chairman stated, over $300,000 had been invested in properties which had gradually been increasing in value and for which, very properly, no allowance had been made in the accounts, we are disposed to regard a net return at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, as most encouraging for the future, especially considering the very severe commercial depression the colony has passed through during the past four or five months.

The shareholder who spoke at the meeting with reference to the results attained, was, we think, most unhappy in his comparisons.
In comparing the Land Investment Co. with the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank and the Hongkong Fire Insurance Co., he evidently overlooked the rather important fact that whereas the two last named concerns had been about a quarter of a century in arriving at their present satisfactory positions, the Land Investment Co. had been in existence only a trifle over eight months. It is perhaps not too much to say that within the next two years the Land Investment Co. will have at least equalled the 20 per cent. dividend predicted this year for the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank. A business that in the first eight months of its existence can show a profit of $128,067 by interest on mortgage and money on deposit, and some comparatively small commissions, with the colony undergoing a financial crisis almost without parallel, owing to excessive share gambling, certainly appears to our way of thinking to promise a most brilliant future. We must admit that we have not professionally analysed the figures in the Accounts, nor have we carefully gone through the details of expenditure, such as working expenses, etc., but taking broad results as a basis for our calculation, the only conclusion possible is that wonders have been achieved for a commencement, especially considering the unexpected and unforeseen difficulties that have been encountered. The properties purchased on behalf of the Company are understood by those in a position to know best to have been bought at a rare bargain; since their purchase they have been gradually developed and their market value materially enhanced; and although it is never safe to indulge in prophecy, we are quite confident that when the existing financial depression, so universal throughout the colony and affecting foreigners and Chinese alike, has passed away and confidence has been restored, a very substantial profit will be realised from these investments. And further, the hint given by Mr. Keswick that the scope of the Company's operations might advantageously be extended should not be lost sight of, and it is to be hoped the Directors will lose no time in effecting the necessary alterations in the Articles of Association to permit this to be done. There is a wide and profitable field for capital outside the colony, which might just as well be utilised by the Land Investment Company when nothing better is offering here. In conclusion, we do not for a moment pretend to say that the management of this enterprise has been so good that it might not be greatly improved; we do not even say that it has up to the present date approached the sanguine anticipations that were formed when it first started; but considering the unexpected disadvantages it has had to labor under and the unforeseen difficulties it has had to surmount, we see sufficiently good reasons, both in the past results and future prospects, for strongly recommending holders of the stock to "hang on" and wait for the turn of the tide.

term, and if our opinion is worth anything,
we admit it may not be—the malcontents
position, or had received timely warning
that awkward questions might be asked,
and he accordingly came prepared. All
deficiencies in the Report were amply
atoned for by the fully detailed statement
the shareholders. Doubtless we are
justified in concluding that the Directors,
policy.

Statement of Accounts was even worse
